

Summer Holidays Ideas From Around The World

For many the traditional package holiday leaves them somewhat wanting. The idea of a flight, hotel and beach is just not enough for people seeking more adventurous holidays.

EN Magazine spoke to Evaneos Travel who specialise in working with local agents to create exciting and tailor made travel experiences around the world. Evaneos-Travel is a platform allowing travellers to dream up, organise, experience, and share their trip on one website, by connecting them with hand-picked local travel agencies from around the world to design tailor-made holidays.

Here are just a few ideas for truly unique holidays guaranteed to create everlasting memories.

Greenland: Cruise and Hike through the Maniitsoq Alps

Arctic destinations are more popular than ever and Greenland is one of the newest destinations to be featured by Evaneos Travel. The local travel agent in Greenland has come up with a small-group cruise and hiking tour lead by an experienced crew of oceanographers and glaciologists to explore the glistening fjords and snow-capped peaks of Maniitsoq in Western Greenland with a chance to see the Northern Lights. A nine-day tour accompanied by passionate arctic explorers from £1,600 per person including full-board accommodation on the iVilla sailing boat.

excursion from £1,131 per person. Price includes all transfers and domestic flights, entrance to national parks, history sites and museums and three-star plus mixed-board accommodation across Peru.

Australia: Coastline, Outback And City Adventure

Australia is a vast and diverse country, boasting every climate and landscape from lush rainforest and crystal-clear waters, to the sun-baked desert of the Outback. With Attenborough's recent 'Great Barrier Reef' TV programme airing earlier this month, 2016 is the year to see Australia! The local Australian agent has created a 17-day tour taking in the best of the country's coastline including the Great Barrier Reef and Kangaroo Island, cities including Melbourne, Australia and Cairns and of course a visit to Ayers Rock in the Australian outback. Explore Australia on 17-day package from £1,300 per person. Price includes accommodation, car hire, ferry travel, multiple tours, and an Australian sim card + credit.

Peru: Two-week adventure holiday

In May 2016 British Airways will launch the only direct flights from the UK to Peru and so this South American country is firmly on the 'hotlist' for 2016! This two-week Peruvian adventure holiday is perfect for families or couples seeking outdoor activities including hiking in the Colca Canyon, mountain biking in the Sacred Valley, horseback riding to old Inca ruins and white water rafting on the Urubamba River. Take a two-week

Holiday - Worldwide

Mongolia: Horse trekking in Orkhon valley

Taking a horseback trek through the world heritage site of Orkhon Valley allows travellers to explore the Khangai mountain range while riding through one of Mongolia's most stunning landscapes. The local Mongolian agent has created a horseback tour through which travellers can truly experience the country's nomadic lifestyle and cultural heritage, as well as taking in the eight lakes of the Naiman Nuur area. Saddle up and take a 10-day package from £1,267 per person. Price includes full-board accommodation on the trek, experienced guides, as well as all horse-riding and equipment.

South Korea: Cultural Immersion

South Korea is the new China! This lesser-visited Asian country is ready to show off its vibrant cities and ancient kingdoms. A South Korean local agent has put together a three-week cultural tour of the country most significant 'must-sees,' including Gyeongju, an open-air museum and Boseong and its tea fields in the South and Suncheon. The tour provides an opportunity to discover a timeless Korea: full of history and traditions. Explore a 21-day tour from £1,203 per person. Price includes accommodation, transfers, and meet and greet at the airport.

Iran: Archaeological Sites

With the British FCO recently relaxing its travel advice to Iran and more flight routes coming into play, including British Airways flights from London Heathrow to the Iranian capital of Tehran from July 2016, this fascinating country is becoming more accessible to UK visitors. Iran is home to nineteen UNESCO World Heritage sites and the local Iranian agent has created a tour which visits eight of them over 12 days. Guests will explore the historic Persian Gardens in Shiraz, the ancient Qanat irrigation system in Yazd, Iranian architecture and handicraft in Isfahan, and the influence of Western culture on Iran's contemporary history in Tehran, as well as the unique gastronomic of Iran, everywhere! Try a 12-day package from £1,647 per person accompanied by an English-speaking guide. Price includes bed and breakfast accommodation, all land transfers, a domestic flight from Tehran to Shiraz and entrances fees.

India: Cruise on Brahmaputra River

Long gone are the days of queueing for hours outside the Indian Embassy. India's new e-visa scheme is making travel to the country easier and better value! The local Indian agent has put together a Brahmaputra River Cruise which offers the chance to explore the north eastern landscape of India, home to tea plantations, temples, and traditional bazaars. Travellers will visit on-shore sites along the way including the Nameri and Kaziranga National Parks. A 10-day cruise from £1,435 per person. Price includes bed and breakfast accommodation, all transfers, a domestic flight from Tehran to Shiraz, entrance fees for all sites visited, and accompanying English-speaking guide throughout.

Botswana: Ultimate African Safari

In 2016, Botswana will celebrate its 50th year of independence which is a great excuse to visit this exceptional wildlife destination. Take the ultimate African safari holiday to the lush wetlands, savannah, and dense forests of Botswana, with the chance to see impressive feline predators such as cheetah and leopard and iconic herbivores like zebra and elephants. Get back to nature with a seven-day package from £2,634 per person. Price includes full-board accommodation with local drinks, domestic flights, two lodge activities per day, park fees and laundry.

Brazil: Rio Waterfalls, Beaches and Sunsets

If you're looking for that perfect Brazil getaway, and hoping to catch the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, this 12-day Rio Waterfalls, Beaches and Sunsets tour is for you. Spend your first few days exploring the sights of the capital, Rio de Janeiro, then continue to the staggering Iguacu Falls and immerse yourselves in one of nature's most impressive natural phenomena. Then, round off the trip swimming or snorkelling through the turquoise waters of Paraty and the stunning island paradise of Ilha Grande! Package starts from £1,000pp excluding international flights.

For more information call 0117 205 0264 or visit www.evaneos-travel.com

Costa Rica: Pura Vida adventure holiday

Another exciting new route for British Airways is Gatwick to San Jose, Costa Rica's capital, launching in April 2016. The local Costa Rican agent has put together a 14-day itinerary covering some of Costa Rica's best Eco Lodges and is perfect for couples or families looking for a combination of nature, seclusion and adventure. The tour starts with one night in the Sarapiquí region before continuing on to Barra del Pacuare, where if you're lucky you'll get the chance to witness sea turtles nesting (from April to October). Then it's on to the Arenal Volcano Region, and finally, round things off relaxing and whale-watching in the South Pacific. Package price starts from £1,315 per person excluding international flights.

IDEAS TO HELP YOUR BRAND FLY

Welcome to 3Drakes Advertising & Marketing
We're a brand new company with years of experience.

We have national ability with local agility.

We show strategic intelligence with tactical know-how.

We deliver big company thinking with start-up energy.

And we combine blue-sky creativity with streetwise execution.

If you're ready to take off, call us on 07779 100 250